

Capitol Hill Kiwanian

Jun 2009 News—Salt Lake Capitol Hill Kiwanis Club—Serving the Children of the World—Sponsor of Capitol Hill Charities—Focusing on BabyCare Cupboard

Linda Hilton

John Brown

John Brown Visits CHK on June 4, encouraging members to attend the upcoming conferences this summer.

Linda Hilton Teaches Saving

Linda Hilton is a veteran when it comes to community service. Now she is working on ways to help anyone save money on food purchases through a co-op. Members buy one or more units for only $24 per month and get plenty of meats, grains, fruits, and vegetables.

Bonnie Jim

Randy O'hara

Randy O'hara Reminds Members of Civic Duties

Randy J. O'hara, is political director of the SL County Republican Party. He shared many examples of how important one vote can be and what a difference giving even a little of your time to support your party and candidates, can make.

Michael Sorokine Tells Russian Perspective

Michael spoke first of his tutor in Russia whose father was accused of being a spy for the US in Russia. Michael came here as exchange student and ended up defending himself here as his own lawyer.

Jim and Bonnie Distribute BUG Awards to Washington Elementary

Jim Archuleta and Bonnie Archer made a lot of children happy, June 5, at Washington Elementary when they handed out BUG (Bring Up Grade) awards to those who qualified. (See three photos above.)

Jim

At right, Jim reported to fellow Kiwanis about the success of the BUG program and also passed around several student hand written thank you notes for the books the students received a few weeks earlier from Capitol Hill Kiwanis Club members.

Michael Sorokine

Michael's wife, Dawn, gives warm support during his presentation.

Ted Huffaker Presents Cuzco (& Machu Piccho)

Tim Huffaker, who recently took some high achievers from his company to Machu Piccho in Peru, was equally intrigued with the capital city of Cuzco and its people, who live at an altitude over 11,000 feet in a bowl-shaped valley (see picture at right). His group then went to the Peruvian part of the Amazon River, only accessible by air. They were amazed at their primitive mode of living and yet happy nature.

Ted Huffaker

Native children in Cuzco

At 7:00 a.m. sharp, President Joel Chambers rings the bell with the mallet and calls the meeting to order.

Everyone then pledges the flag and a prayer and blessing on the food is offered.

What's a Capitol Hill Thursday Morning Like?

Members then exit to the hallway and dish up a delicious breakfast catered by the cafeteria.

As CHK members begin to eat, they respond a sports quiz to win a prize.

Various committee chairmen tell about their latest activities

The speaker for the week signs a children's book provided by Bonnie, and gives about a 25 minute presentation and does Q & A.

Kathie and Claron give dynamic reports.

Members relax, have a lot of fun, and enjoy a great diversity of guest speakers.

Repetition shots from the cafeteria and the reflection pool in the plaza

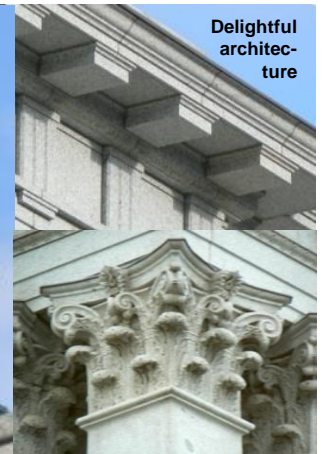

From inside CHK meeting room looking east

Cupola on top of the Capitol's dome

Delightful architecture

Capitol Hill Shots

Do you recognize these scenes? These photos were all taken near where CHK meets every Thursday morning.

Here's a view of the building CHK meets in from the plaza in the back looking eastward.

Note: Don't forget to mark your calendars for CHK's summer social at Lindsay Gardens, Aug 21, featuring the "Muddy Gutter Boys."

chk.homestead.com

See Salt Lake Capitol Hill Club's Website at chk.homestead.com.

Editor's Note: If you are willing to contribute content, photos, or suggestions for this newsletter, contact Jack Shirts at 801-699-4512 or e-mail him at jshirts@comcast.net.